[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO SEPT 23

Condition of Strasbourg

MUNDELSHEIM Sept ?—The siege of Strasbourg is vigorously pushed. Lunette No ... was taken by the Prussians to day ... They captured two guns.

Rumors a ... of the capitulation of Strasbourg but it lacks official confirmation.

Fighting Around Paris

TOURS Sept ?—Fighting near Paris continues with varying results. There has been no important engagements yet. The reported occupation of Orleans by the Prussians has not been confirmed. It is rumored that Lyons will be made the temporary capital of France.

LONDON Sept 2 ... Telegrams assert that the Prussians having been repulsed in the last assault upon Toul have abandoned the siege and are marching to join the army around Paris.

Political Affairs in France

PARIS Sept via London Sept 22—There is an effort now to separate the political from the military question. There are two different powers in Paris—one the official Provisional Government which satisfies nobody, the second the Central Republican Committee in every arrondissement. This committee is in constant communication with the population. A special committee of five remains constantly day and night at the sitting of the Assembly. This committee constitutes the Commune of Paris. The revolutionary element in Paris is making itself conspicuous.

CALAIS Sept 22—The main portion of the French fleet is here.

Favre Fails to Obtain Peace

TOURS Sept 21—The information received here destroys all hopes of peace. Favre expressed a willingness to accede to a plan to satisfy Prussia for electing a representative assembly and then obtain the voice of a duly accredited Government in making terms, which the Prussian King's counsellor positively declines. He refuses an armistice and will make peace only on condition of retaining possession of the districts now occupied until the terms are ratified by the Constituent Assembly. Although the ... terms were not yet reached Favre informs his associates in the Government that the cession of Alsace will certainly be the ultimatum of Prussia and he has little hope of success in his mission.

General Dispatches.

LONDON Sept 22—A Havre telegram to night says fresh complications have arisen between Russia and Turkey and regards war between the two powers probable.

A Paris letter of the 20th says the action of the extreme Republicans on Saturday and Sunday was disgraceful. The demonstrations in several portions of the city were noisy and dangerous. Crowds assembled in different quarters and a large number of roughs were armed, and in some cases violence was committed. In one instance a storehouse was broken open and products taken under pretence of authority from the Committee of Defence. Sunday night great terror prevailed among the better classes of people. Monday a large force of the National Guard regulars and marines from the forts marched into the city to preserve order. There is little doubt an attempt will be made before long by the extreme party to seize and control the Government. It is difficult to say where the end will be.

LONDON Sept 22—Lyons and Paris are not in political accordance. The great cities of France refuse to be bound by the action of the Capital, if it capitulates.

The report from Tours that Thiers obtained from England a recognition of the Provisional Government is not believed here. We must wait and see what the Constituent Assembly decides to do in Tours. The belief is that no negotiations for peace are likely to succeed until the military events before Paris assume a decisive turn.

Internal Condition of France

LONDON Sept 2?—A ... correspondent has arrived from Lyons and brings important accounts of the internal condition of France.

The reported insurrection at Lyons against the Paris government is not true. A municipal election was held on the 1?th. It returned a majority of Independents to the Council. They are mostly members of the International Working Men's Association who fly the red flag. They distrust Trochu and Favre but do not reject the Provisional Government. The town was quiet except incessant cannon practice. The whole male population and an army of 30,000 men from the Rhine valley were throwing up earthworks.

Tours is resolved to resist if attacked. There were 40,000 regulars in the city.

Dispatches from Berlin

BERLIN Sept 22—Official advices from headquarters report Jules Favre as presenting as the first point for consideration whether the constituent assembly about to be chosen could be relied upon to recognize a treaty made with the Favre government as binding. Favre is understood to offer Alsace as indemnity for cost of war the demolition of the fortifications of Metz and Strasbourg and the surrender of part of the French fleet.

The French expect the Prussians will march from Beauvais on Rouen and Amiens, and so cut off Northeastern France.

Italian Affairs

FLORENCE Sept 21—A portion of Rome called Leonine City on the right bank of the Tiber containing the Vatican and the castle of St Angelo is not occupied by the Italian troops. It is doubtful if the Pope is in Rome.

Miscellaneous

LONDON Sept 22—It is generally believed here that Prussia is negotiating with France solely for the sake of delay so as to secure possession of Paris.

BERLIN Sept 22—An official statement of the military situation declares the investment of Paris completed to the fullest extent deemed requisite for all purposes. Troops while marching to assigned positions met no resistance except on the south side of the city.

The bombardment of Toul has been continued incessantly since the 10th of September with heavy siege guns.

MARSEILLES Sept 1?—Garibaldi is prevented from leaving Caprera and is guarded as a prisoner.

The Siege of Paris French Accounts

NEW YORK Sept ?—A ... special to day says General Trochu intends to ... all troops ... not employed in ...

The heavy guns of Fort Ivry did great harm to the Prussians massed in the woods. The French loss has not yet been reported but it is said to be much less than the loss of the Prussians. The ... struggles which inaugurates the siege of Paris and which must now be terminated by victory and the withdrawal of the Prussians or by defeat that will convert every house into a fortress.

Provinces and communes are fast coming to the rescue of the besieged capital. There have already been subscribed twenty seven millions of dollars towards the defense of the capital.

The aspect of the streets changes wonderfully from day to day. Ambulances with wounded soldiers are continually passing.

Peace Negotiations

LONDON Sept ?—A dispatch from ... says that Bismarck and Jules Favre were closeted all day. The former insisted on a meeting of the Assembly to ratify the treaty. Favre conceded an indemnity for the cost of the war, the surrender ... of the French fleet ... Metz and Strasbourg and ... of ... fortresses.

The Prussians are apparently preparing to ... the French.

In commercial circles ... abandoned. Prussia ... French Government ... declared ...

LONDON Sept ... Couriers ... from the vicinity of Paris report that a ... fight occurred yesterday at a point immediately south of the city. The French forces in heavy columns met the Prussians posted in force and the former were repulsed with great loss.

A Northern Pacific surveying party which started from Bozeman City across the Bitter Root Mountains some weeks ago recently returned to Fort Owen for supplies and are going to descend the Clearwater in a boat.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM Thursday Sept 2?, 1870

A BUSY DAY AT THE CAPITAL

I have searched through and through my memorandum book this evening for matters about which to write. The result is the discovery of an exceedingly meagre inventory of events very few of which have any intrinsic interest to anybody except the immediate actors in the said events. Both houses of the Legislature have been doing some work of the plodding sort—work which scarcely affords a peg to hang a note upon. The House occupied the greater part of the day in getting into and out of parliamentary muddles. The Senate did a pretty fair day's work, measured by the number of motions disposed of. On the outside there were but few people stirring and those seemed very somnambulistically disposed. The arrivals and departures of the stages created momentarily a little stir and then everybody dozed again. We have had a day of almost Sabbath quiet. The jostling button holing and dark alley crowd that was here the first half of the week have mostly disappeared and now it will not be violent presumption to say that the Legislature has got room and time to do some good square work if they want to.

AMIS IN TRIBULATION AGAIN

This morning Mr Helm Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House, reported back a bill introduced by Mr Amis in relation to exemption of property from taxation, with a recommendation to indefinitely postpone. Mr Amis again passed through a fiery ordeal. He had introduced this bill, he said for the benefit of the poor man [still playing on the harp of a thousand strings] He appealed to the Democrats who revere the memory of Jefferson to come up to the help of the poor man against the bloated rich man and save his bill from the pit digged for it by the Judiciary Committee. Amis prevailed to the slight extent of getting his bill laid on the table instead of going to the demnition bowwows through the straits of indefinite postponement.

AMIS HAS A GLEAM OF HOPE

This afternoon Mr Helm poured balm of oil metaphorically into the wounds of Amis the persecutor of the tax ... It will be recollected that yesterday the bill had been laid on the table and pronounced to be there dead by the Speaker pro tem. The ... were greatly divided as to whether it could or could not be resurrected by any mere human means; and the peril of Chinese hordes bald pated and pig tailed seemed to be unavoidable. Hence the mourning of the Whang Doodle which I mentioned yesterday. To day however the bill was reported by Mr Helm from the Judiciary Committee, without recommendation. Here was another affecting instance to which the lost is found my son that was dead is alive &c—you can put in those other things about the "swine," "devil fatted calf" and all that to suit yourselves. The query was at once raised how the bill got into the hands of the Judiciary Committee seeing that it had been laid by the House quietly to sleep on the table and then followed an interesting life and times of the bill by various authors bound in calf. It was established that the bill was really in the hands of the committee at the time the action of the House was taken but several of its biographers denied utterly that it had ever been so referred. The Clerk was directed to go over the record to see what had really been the course of the bill and after the House had waited with baited breath for some time and several members had excitedly gone to sleep or to take a drink the whole matter was again laid on the table.

THE SENATE TAKES A ... VIEW OF GENERAL SHERMAN

This morning the House Military Committee to whom was referred Davenport's resolution to invite Gen Sherman to visit the Capital reported a substitute. The committee had knocked out the Hero of Atlanta, and the General's services in the cause of ... etc and simply recommended that W T Sherman General of the Army be welcomed to the State and invited to visit the Capital at his ... The substitute resolution was adopted without opposition. The Senate however was in a more decidedly Democratic mood and refused to do honor to Gen Sherman either as the "Hero of Atlanta" or simply as General of the Army. When it came in from the House, Mr Mosher was not disposed to rejoice over Gettysburg nor Antietam and Mr Cochran was not willing to crawl on his belly. Mr Mosher has a sort of personal reason for not hallelujahing over the victories of the Union army but why Mr Cochran should decline to crawl on his belly does not appear. The vote on the motion to concur with the House in the adoption of the resolution shows that seven other Democrats were unwilling either to rejoice or to crawl on their bellies to the extent of inviting Gen Sherman to the Capital. Here are the names of nine men so bitterly partisan as to refuse the commonest civility to the first military officer of the United States. Brown of Baker Cochran of Lane Crawford of Linn, Henderson of Union, Hollenbeck of Josephine Huntley of Linn ... Moshee of Umatilla Mosher of Douglas and Fay of Jackson. Mr Baldwin of Grant Democrat voted for the resolution only for the reason that he had made a motion to concur. Burch of Polk and Trevitt of Wasco, Democrats voted for the resolution on the ground I presume that it was only a proper and ... from the representatives of the people of Oregon to the Chief of the Army. The affirmative votes—all the Republicans and three Democrats—were only ten not a constitutional majority and the resolution was therefore lost.

The Senate referred the message to various committees spent some time in the consideration of a bill to regulate fees of county officers provided for a committee to visit and inspect the penitentiary and disposed of several uninteresting items of business.

FIRE AND ... ADJOURNMENT

About four o'clock while the House was in session there was an alarm of fire. Instantly there was a general uprising and rush for the door. In the confusion of two scores of men to their feet and half of them going pell mell for the outside a dozen voices moved an adjournment. The Speaker without waiting for a record ... put the vote and declared the House adjourned. For once the House agreed to a motion without a squabble or the ... of long homilies on parliamentary law.

A FIRST CLASS FIRE

The buildings burned were Boothby & Stapleton's sash and door factory, Drake's blacksmith shop and foundry, a dwelling house belonging to Drake and a barn, owner's name not ascertained. The flames which originated in the sash and door factory through the carelessness of a fireman in putting shavings into the boiler furnace spread through the building and to the adjoining buildings with amazing rapidity. The fire companies were out at once but through lack of drill were slow in getting water. When they finally did begin to play, all these buildings except the barn were enveloped in flames and beyond the power of man to save them. ... did the flames communicate from one to the other that very little if anything was ... Both the factory and foundry were filled with valuable machinery and ... had an immense ... The air was very ... with ... fragments of shingles ... northerly wind toward the saw mill ... The roof of the saw ... was ... these falling coals a half ... very ... with the roof ... The saw dust and lumber on all sides were fired in dozens of places at once, and for a few moments the mill lumber yard and all the surrounding houses in that direction appeared to be in imminent peril. Fences stumps and little grass plats were set on fire wherever a spark fell. For ten minutes the prospect was appalling. Houses across the street were smoking with the heat and green fir trees standing twenty feet away dried up and set in a blaze. One of these a beautiful young tree was cut down and dragged away to save the houses of J Q Wilson on the north of the factory and to the windward. The firemen finding that nothing could be done to save the already burning buildings turned their attention to the neighboring houses and by dint of as hard and daring work as I ever saw saved them. The goods and chattels of the occupants were however summarily turned into the street pell mell and in the most indiscriminate piles. The losses cannot foot up much less than $35 000. The firemen worked hard and bravely, but they lack both drill and discipline. Salem ought to have a steam engine for such occasions. In the prolonged effort to save Mr Drake's machinery dozens and scores of men working at the brakes gave out some of them fainted with exertion and there was a constant call from the officers of the department upon spectators for help. A steamer would have done twice or three times as much work without tiring anybody.

MINOR LANDMARKS

I find that I was in error yesterday in stating that the stages and cars would immediately connect at the Fair Ground. The track has been laid that far but the fish bars have not been put on the rails yet from Lake LaBish up to the terminus. This will be done however in a few days. The connecting point is still below the La Bish bridge.

J Henry Brown has begun the issue of a little daily called the The Daily Visitor. Its circulation is gratis the proprietor depending solely for his remuneration upon the advertising patronage.

Mrs Bird lessee and manager of the Opera House has arrived with part of the members of her dramatic company and will open the season early next week.

THE TERRITORIES

A few days ago at Boise City Thomas Wethered shot William Richards discharging two pistol balls in his body. The wounded man died two days after. Wethered is held to answer the charge of murder.

There is a species of skunk in Eastern Montana which is known to hunters as the skunk bear. It has large cumbersome paws like a bear and short strong legs, but the head and nose are those of the common pole cat.

For over a year an ox having escaped from a freight train has been running with a band of elk about the head of the Big Prickly Pear, Montana. Following the elk in their flights from the approaching hunters it has been impossible to reclaim him.

The whole of Montana some time in the distant past must have been a grand grazing field for Mastodons. Their remains have been found in almost every mining camp on both sides of the main range. In the Musselshell valley, near the Copperop ... copper lode an immense deposit of the bones have been found the enamel on some of the teeth being as perfect as if they were possessed by a living animal.

A Montana paper tells us that among the buffalo herds out on the Yellowstone is a snow white bull. There can be no doubt of this as he has been frequently seen by both Indians and white hunters. He is said to be unusually wild it being impossible to approach him within shooting distance. The Crows have several times tried to capture him by surprise but he has so far been too wary for them. If Barnum would offer enough to make general pursuit, he might be taken alive.

From the Boise Statesman 13th. A difficulty occurred yesterday morning at the farm of Wm Richards about ten miles below town between Richards and Thos Wethered in which Wethered fired two shots from a revolver both taking effect one in the groin and one in the shoulder of Mr Richards. Wethered came in town and gave himself up to the authorities and was lodged in jail. There are various rumors concerning the difficulty some of which make it a deliberate murder as Richards will most probably die and some again that there was a provoking quarrel existing between the parties.

Will Bear Watching

We call the attention of the people of Southern Oregon to the following paragraph from the Herald, the recognized organ of the Democratic party:

> The two Radical papers of this city are indulging themselves in dissertations on political morality and consistency. As this is a new task their pens don't run very smoothly. Meantime the Democrats having elected Col. Kelly can sit back and read these moral preachments at their leisure and in digesting them, if they discover they have committed any error in the expression of sentiment in any resolution, they are able to amend or annul them, as they may deem advisable.

It was natural to expect that the Herald would exhibit a good deal of disgust over Kelly's disgraceful conduct. That it would accept without some remonstrance the alliance with "Holladay's monopoly" was hardly to be anticipated. But that it should deliberately advise Kelly and its party to break the pledges they have given, and thus add to their already deep degradation the additional disgrace of perfidy and falsehood, we should not have supposed had we not seen the above paragraph and several others of like purport in the Herald.

The people of Southern Oregon who are vitally interested in this question will not fail to take notice of the advice of the Democratic organ. They will perceive that this organ speaks of the action of Col. Kelly and the party as an "error" which they can amend or annul. In other words, they can take back the resolution in favor of a railroad for Southern Oregon, and Col. Kelly can renounce his pledges. It is even asserted by Democrats here that Col. Kelly will be visited on his return by a deputation of the most influential members of his party and forced, or at least urgently requested, to sign a paper repudiating utterly all that he promised. No doubt the Herald would approve of such a proceeding. We advise the Southern Oregon people to keep still a good lookout for their interests. A very strong pressure will be brought to bear on Kelly to induce him to renounce his pledges and sacrifice Southern Oregon. The Herald, it will be seen, already counsels such a course.

Political Prospects

The Washington Chronicle of the 6th inst states that while the Democratic Congressional Committee have been daily telegraphing North and South the amount of work performed in the way of circulating documents, &c., the Republican Committee have been quietly and industriously at work in the same way and perhaps much more effectually. Within less than four weeks this committee has printed and circulated documents amounting in the aggregate to three hundred thousand copies, and will immediately send out not less than five hundred thousand more. Colonel Platt, the Secretary of the committee, is giving his entire attention to the responsible duties which devolve on him as head of the committee, and is in daily correspondence with every doubtful Republican and Democratic district in the country. The correspondence of the committee is immense and requires the constant labors of some fifteen or twenty clerks.

Notwithstanding the hopeful telegrams sent out by the Democratic Committee, the prospects of that party are daily declining. The most cheering news is being received by the Republican Committee from districts which were two months ago conceded to the Democrats, and it is now believed that very few, if any, of them will be lost. The committee has succeeded in healing the differences which existed in one or two of the districts in Virginia, and are in a fair way of bringing harmony out of the chaos which has so long existed in the ranks of the Republicans of Georgia. In Louisiana harmony and good feeling has been restored, as it has been in the few Eastern and Western districts where slight defections existed. As the canvass progresses and the people become aroused to the importance of the election all differences of opinion on minor issues will be forgotten, and the Republican party throughout the whole length and breadth of the land will show such an unbroken front as will be a sure guarantee of success.

Appropriating Republican Ideas

How the staunch Democracy of Michigan must have torn their hair when they read the following proposition in the platform of their party, as adopted by the State Convention recently held at Detroit. Similar disquietude will reign in the Democratic mind in Oregon, when the party throughout the State learns that their Legislature has expressly sanctioned and approved the "infamous scheme of Holladay and Williams" in railroad matters. Here is the Michigan resolution:

> That the best financial policy of the times is honesty and frugality—honesty in the application of the public money for the proper purposes, and a rigid frugality in its expenditure.

"As this statement of the best financial policy," says the New York Times, "exactly expresses Republican practice under General Grant's Administration, what significance are we to attach to its appearance in a Democratic platform? Has some mischievous Republican hoodwinked the Democracy, and cheated them into an endorsement of the Republican policy? Or are the managing Democrats of Michigan preparing to 'bolt,' and to give their support to the Republican ticket? Or do these managers really believe that they can create a feeling in favor of the Democracy by appropriating a Republican idea?"

Mr. Holladay's Senator, Kelly, remains at Salem. It would seem an unnecessary time. But then we have heard it suggested that Mr Holladay is not yet quite ready for him to come down. It is inferred that he is making preparations to give his Senator a brilliant reception and to get the thing up in first class style requires time. The only thing that is likely to happen to mar the harmony of the time is the chafing of the editor and proprietors of the Herald over the fact that they have not received invitations.

Bosh! There is no Democratic party. The organization is abandoned, or what comes to the same thing, it is merged into a blighting, crushing, grasping and corrupt monopoly. We know that this is the character of the monopoly which has absorbed the Democratic party because organs of that party for a year past have constantly told us so.

It is reported and is probably true that Col. Kelly has ordered an immense white hat of the "monopoly" pattern which he will wear hereafter. In it will be posted his pledge, or bill of sale to Mr. Holladay, written or printed in large ornamental letters so that he can always have his instructions where he can readily consult them.

The Isolation of Paris—A Sober View of the Situation

A Paris special to the New York Herald says:

PARIS, Sept 11.—[illegible] overdue. This [illegible] is occasioned by a feeling [illegible]. We now for the first time realize the fact that we are cut off almost entirely from the outside world, and are dependent upon our own efforts for our future. It is believed that if the present mail gets through, it must be the last. It is probably the last that will be permitted to leave the Capital. The only [illegible] the city [illegible] last of Old [illegible] has vanished. [illegible] contempt of death [illegible] of all who remain inside the walls of Paris.

The people are terribly calm. There is no outward evidence of fear. No bravado, or even display of patriotism breaks forth audibly. It takes the appearance of fierceness and desperation. Last night I passed through the office of the Libre [illegible] of the Government. The compositors were waiting for copy standing in [illegible] manual exercise. The men were absorbed earnestly in the work. I passed through a large portion of the city without a single policeman visible, yet order and tranquility never more perfect. The only change which is painful enough is that of the streets from their former marked cleanliness. Garbage is unmoved, and sidewalks unswept. Things more momentous occupy attention. Life and death are in the balance. The blow may fall at any moment.

VICTOR HUGO ON THE SITUATION.

I dined last night with Victor Hugo and family. His two sons with their wives were present. The illustrious host, in reply to some remarks, said many striking and startling things. He said he had come to Paris to share the perils of its citizens, he had no political role to fill. His presence in the ramparts might be useful, he would go daily on arms and stimulate by words the ardor of the patriotic defenders of the city. He regarded the attack on Paris absurd as well as cruel. The war was begun against the Emperor Napoleon. Now he was a prisoner, and the King of Prussia sends him a retinue of servants, and sends us who never provoked the war bombshells. Never was there an act so atrocious and ridiculous in history. "I don't know," continued he, as a cloud overspread his face, "what part may fall to my lot to play before this awful drama closes. But Paris has the choice of a determined defence or cowardly surrender. If it should, though it seems impossible, decide upon the latter course, I can only return in exile to my old retreat in Jersey. If it selects the former, I trust to see every quarter of Paris one after the other blown to atoms, and the enemy, corps after corps, battalion after battalion, in the same grave with my resolute fellow-citizens."

As he uttered these sentiments in eloquent, thrilling language, and in a voice of measured gravity, I looked at the faces of the ladies at the table. They were grave and solemn but serene and had not the faintest trace of dread of such a fearful catastrophe.

"In this way," said Hugo, "Paris must perish. While the spectacle may horrify the world, it will be followed by a resurrection of the democracy of France and Germany, who will avenge the terrible catastrophe."

The Williams Amendment

[From the Salem Statesman.]

All Oregon knows how Senator Williams, unaided and alone, interposed at the last moment an amendment to the so-called Humboldt Bill, that was to locate the terminus of the Railroad in Rogue River Valley. And every body knows that this measure was received with a perfect storm of abuse by the Democratic press of this State, that Hon J. S. Smith wrote letters from Washington to show that Williams had not done well in this amendment and it was cause for his defeat. The Herald struck off extras by the thousand, and hired runners to ride and throw them broad cast over the West Side on the eve of the election. * * * * *

Everybody knows, also, that when the election was over and candidates arose for Senatorial succession the Williams amendment came to be a prodigiously popular thing. It was so broad that all Oregon could stand on it, except perhaps Sullivan and Pengra, and even Kelly, poor fellow, when he came to stand up and take the solemn promises that resulted in his election yesterday, had to plant his expansive form directly upon the Williams amendment. Even before the consummation of the vote for the Senator the two Houses had to resolve in favor of the Williams amendment and perhaps the biggest joke of the season is to be found in the fact that this Democratic Legislature has seriously instructed Williams to go back to Washington and support the very measure Democracy denounced him so earnestly for originating.

If Henry Clay had rather "be right than be President," so Williams has proved to be right if he is not to be Senator. We quite envy him the distinction he has won and it should be worth more to succeed in shaping an important measure and be endorsed by the whole State as wise and judicious, than to be the subject of a mere partisan success. The fact is that our opponents own a great respect for Williams and we believe they honestly entertain it. They have not elected him as Senator, but they have paid the higher compliment to endorse one of his most independent and important Senatorial acts.

Colfax's Letter

Following is the letter from Vice President Colfax announcing his intention to retire from public life to which we alluded some days ago. It appeared first in the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Union of the 7th inst.

> I thank you for your good wishes in my behalf, but I intend with this term, to close my public life absolutely. I will then have had eighteen years of continuous service at Washington mostly on a stormy sea long enough for any one, and my ambition is all gratified and satisfied. Gen Grant will doubtless be renominated and I think should. My articles and speeches show my faith in him and respect for him; but the people will want some eastern or southern Vice President and should have one. I shall leave public life voluntarily and without a regret and expect to go into active business. My friends here all know of this determination, and I assure you it is no pretense but a reality. This is the last campaign in which I shall participate, and I feel as happy at the prospective release from the exactions, cares, misrepresentations and excitements of political life, as the student who is about to graduate and go forth from the walls in which he has been for years, free from professors and critics. When you think it all over you will concede that it is a wise determination.

An item is now going the rounds of the Democratic press to the effect that it cost $25,000 to reconstruct Mississippi, and $175,000 for Arkansas, and it is intimated that the bills are extravagant. That the charge is moderate will be seen when it is known that it cost full $200,000,000 to conquer these States and restore them to the Union. Half a million expended afterwards to hold and civilize them does not look like much of a show in the "extravagant" line. They will pay in taxes five times the cost of their keeping annually so that Uncle Sam had better hold on as a mere matter of speculation.

If McMahon could only have received McClellan's opinion of the situation in time his army might have been marching towards Metz with arms in their hands, instead of to Prussia without them. McClellan with his usual sagacity saw that the French army was getting the Prussians just where it wanted them, and the result of the trick was as clear as the campaign to Richmond. When the Germans were fairly in the trap, it sprung the wrong way. There is nothing like "strategy" when it secures such brilliant results. McClellan is no doubt delighted at his late predictions.

An American officer, who knows Von Moltke, says that there is probably no military man in Europe who is so thoroughly acquainted with the history of the American war and who is so intelligently informed regarding all the details of our plans, operations and campaigns. He not only knows about our army organization and our arms in a general way, but he has studied each particular point and feature so minutely and closely that his knowledge may perhaps be best described as Germanic. He belongs to that order of German students described by Goethe as the "All-knowers."

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

EASTERN DATES TO SEPT. 23

Bismarck's Terms

[illegible], Sept 23.—The Provincial [illegible], the official organ published at Berlin contains this morning two notes from Bismarck to the Ambassadors of neutral Powers to the North German Confederation. The first note dated the [illegible] urges the necessity of better and more material guarantees against a new attack by France and especially upon the States of South Germany, Bavaria, Wurtemburg and Baden. In the second note Bismarck repudiates all idea of the intervention for the reorganization of France but says if Strasburg and Metz are retained French hands the power offensive of France is superior to the power defensive of Germany. These material guarantees alone will give peace.

Balloon Service

TOURS, Sept. 23.—Balloons at Paris are still in active use, enabling the military authorities to keep a sharp watch of the movements of the Prussians.

Another balloon from Marshal Bazaine's headquarters at Metz has fallen within territory occupied by the French. The balloon contained one hundred and thirty seven letters. From the letters it seems that butcher's meat is very dear at Metz and the army and citizens are consequently eating horse flesh. There are plenty of provisions other than meat.

Favre and Bismarck

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Times publishes a telegram from Berlin of yesterday's date saying that Bismarck and Jules Favre were closeted all Tuesday, the former insisting on a meeting of the Constitutional Assembly to ratify the treaty. Favre conceded an indemnity for the cost of the war surrender of part of the French fleet, dismantling of Metz and Strasbourg, and possibly other fortifications.

A Battle near Paris.

LONDON, Sept 21.—Couriers just from the vicinity of Paris report that a very severe battle occurred yesterday at a point immediately south of that city. The French forces in heavy columns met the Prussians posted in force. The former were repulsed with great loss.

Russia Again

LONDON, Sept. 23, 6 P. M.—A Berlin telegram which is to be received cautiously has the following intelligence. The Russians are in motion to seize the Black Sea, and probably the Dardanelles. War between the Czar and Sultan is imminent.

Movements about Paris

LONDON, Sept 22.—The following dispatch is just received. The Prussian guns at Sceaux now command the southern part of Paris. The Prussians have arrived at St. Denis, near the northern boundary.

A railroad is finished around the forts of Paris.

Arrangements are made at Littoy whereby the complete inundation of the surrounding country can be caused in twelve hours.

The Prussians have occupied Dauden, eighteen miles west of Versailles.

No Prussians are anywhere in the Department of the Aube.

Talk About Terms of Peace

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A special correspondent in London telegraphs the particulars of a meeting between Favre and Bismarck in the chateau of Thierry. Bismarck opened the subject of peace negotiations at once. No result was reached but in the course of the discussion Favre asserted that the Provisional Government could put Prussia in possession of such material guarantees as would make it certain that she could lose nothing by an effort for peace, even should the constituent Assembly reject the treaty that might be agreed upon. He also declared that the commanders at Metz and Strasburg would obey any orders his Government might issue to them. In London there were some expectations that peace would be concluded on a basis of the temporary occupation of Alsace and Lorraine by the Prussians, and by the surrender of Metz and Strasburg. In commercial circles however, the hope of peace is nearly abandoned. Prussia will insist on terms which no French Government would at present dare to accede to. The Prussians are, apparently preparing to move on Orleans, which the French has evacuated. Tours is threatened. Uhlans are at Orleans and Blois.

Italian Affairs.

FLORENCE, Sept 23.—Rome is now completely occupied by Italian troops. The Pope is permitted to retain a guard, composed of his late troops. The rest of his army is dismissed. Prisoners taken by Italian troops on capitulation. The Papal army number about 9,300. They consist of 4,800 Italians and 4,500 foreigners.

Gen Garibaldi is still prisoner on the Island of Caprera, and Italian war vessels are cruising about to prevent his escape to France.

Morton Minister to England.

NEW YORK, Sept 23.—The Tribune this morning says, editorially, that Senator Oliver P. Morton of Indiana, was about a month ago appointed Minister to England. He promptly accepted the appointment, but requested the whole matter should be kept secret until Gov. Baker should have time for consideration and untrammeled action in the appointment of his successor.

Washington Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept 23.—There is the best authority for saying that there is no truth in the published statement that our Government has instructed Washburne that it can do nothing whatever to mitigate the sufferings of expelled Germans. Washburne, under instruction and permission of the State Department, has offered relief and mitigated the sufferings of many thousands of Germans expelled from Paris.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 23.—Over $7,500 was realized at the French Sanitary festival last evening, and they expect to realize fully $40,000 for the three days, including the donations. Railroad Accident

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 23.—A freight train to Sacramento on the Vallejo Railroad, ran over a cow this morning, six miles from Vallejo, and the engine and eight cars out of twenty eight in the train were thrown down a fifteen feet embankment. The cow passed under the engine and caught on the step. The wreck of the engine and cars was complete. The conductor, Briggs, who was on the tender, had his right leg broken badly in two places and his left knee crushed to a jelly, besides being severely bruised all over. The tender rolled over him. His injuries are supposed to be fatal. Charles Darwin engineer and Jones, fireman were both badly bruised. A laborer named McDonald, on a construction train sent to repair the road fell from a car and broke his right leg below the knee.

Return of the Railroad Excursionists

The railroad agents excursion party passed the most complimentary resolutions in honor of California, returning thanks for the unlimited hospitality extended to them etc. Several members telegraphed home declaring that they had received such hospitalities as had never before been received by any party of excursionists in the United States. They left this afternoon.

French Sanitary Fair

The French Sanitary Fair at the Pavillion is crowded to overflowing this evening.

CHRISTIAN INTELLIGENCE —Evening services at the Unitarian Church will be omitted until further notice Morning services will be continued [illegible] Rev J W Hudson of Ware Mass [illegible] Rev L D Driver writes to [illegible] that he will return overland in time to meet the [illegible] sessions of this state He writes from Stockton [illegible] California.

The ladies of the Catholic Church will hold a meeting at the rooms of the Catholic Library and [illegible] Doctrine Society, on Thursday Sept [illegible] o'clock P M The object of the meeting will be to complete arrangements for holding [illegible] Fair some time during the fall.

[illegible] Sentinel is informed that the ladies of [illegible] City will hold a Fair for the benefit of the [illegible] Jesus and Mary at that place during [illegible] exhibition of the Wasco County Agricultural [illegible] on the 28th 29th and 30th of this month [illegible] the generous ladies of the Dalles the [illegible] which their undertaking deserves The [illegible] Cowlitz Prairie will also hold a grand [illegible] for the benefit of the Sisters Academy at [illegible], on the 3d of October next to continue [illegible] days.

[illegible] to the Society of St Vincent de Paul [illegible] instituted in Portland the Sentinel says [illegible] illustrious founder blessed St Vincent [illegible] is considered by the common consent of [illegible] nations and classes a true example [illegible] Christian charity No one in distress [illegible] applied in vain to that great saint for relief [illegible] object of the Society is to emulate at least [illegible] the example of that great almoner [illegible] exist in almost every Catholic parish [illegible], throughout the world, and the [illegible] both spiritual and temporal dispersed [illegible] are innumerable Its operations have [illegible] among us already, in the many cases of [illegible] misery and want relieved Its great [illegible] will no doubt be much extended with [illegible] of this city and State and it is hoped [illegible] will increase their zeal proportionate [illegible] The season of the year (winter) during [illegible] the most cases of distress occur is approaching [illegible] the Conference should be fully prepared [illegible] and all cases presenting themselves [illegible] of assistance The meetings of the [illegible] from and on to-morrow take place [illegible] o'clock, P M instead of at 8½ as heretofore [illegible] Members are requested to bear this in mind [illegible]

THE BAR BOAT QUESTION —The controversy [illegible] respecting the operations of the [illegible] on the Columbia river bar has [illegible] considerable proportions among ship [illegible] masters of vessels, and in order that we [illegible] accordingly upon the subject we [illegible] a correct list of all the charges to [illegible] by visiting the port of San Francisco are [illegible] and also the scale of similar charges [illegible] the port of New York, which may be [illegible] with the pilot charges in vogue here [illegible] of comparison, we will take a [illegible] thousand tons as a guide Such a vessel [illegible], will draw from 18 to 20 feet, [illegible] pilotage to New York would [illegible] $119 65 The same vessel entering [illegible] harbor, would pay $140 pilot [illegible] Here a vessel of the same class would [illegible], and this charge would include the [illegible] and towage. In the majority of cases [illegible], vessels draw but 12 feet and the [illegible] are $8 per foot which covers all [illegible] of towing, pilotage, etc no provision [illegible] made for extra charges for taking [illegible] like those of New York or San Francisco. To better illustrate the advantages of [illegible] boat under State subsidy on the [illegible] bar, let us take an Oregon packet [illegible] comparison The Hattie C Besse [illegible] just sailed with a cargo of lumber [illegible] 13 feet. Her pilotage and towage [illegible] to $96—using the ship's [illegible] and the tug's hawser $20 additional [illegible] would have made $116 Before [illegible] the pilot charges alone would have [illegible] $120—tonnage, $100, making an [illegible] of $220 This shows $124 in favor of [illegible] it not? Now suppose we had no [illegible] rates of pilotage were still in [illegible] per foot the charges would then [illegible] $120, or $24 more without the tug or [illegible] paid to the tug alone, and [illegible] obliged to wait for a favorable [illegible] sail Capt. Flavel of Astoria, was [illegible] We understand he contemplates visiting Salem to represent the interests [illegible] before the Legislative Assembly, [illegible] every facility will be afforded [illegible] showing of the case may be [illegible]

[illegible]-RAILROAD —A day or two since a [illegible] appeared in the Bulletin to the effect [illegible] by Oswego and Sucker Lake will [illegible] adopted for the West Side Railroad [illegible] matter seems now to be getting into a shape [illegible] becoming interesting to the people of Portland. Mr. Holladay will undoubtedly [illegible] the construction of the West Side road, and [illegible] of it will be completed during [illegible] But we express a hope that he [illegible] at once to adopt the route by Oswego [illegible] people of Portland have notice of [illegible] of affairs, so that they can, if they [illegible] which may secure the terminus of this road on this side of the river [illegible] would be much easier to build by [illegible] but we hear it has been ascertained [illegible] possible to use the route already [illegible] and prepared, though the expense [illegible] the road there would be considerably [illegible] than by the other route If the matter [illegible] to the property holders of Portland [illegible] think it well to take such steps as [illegible] up the difference in the cost of construction between the respective routes and thus [illegible] railroad for this side of the river At all [illegible] to be evident that this is the only [illegible] a railroad having its terminus on [illegible] the river can be obtained No proposal [illegible] in this direction, has yet been [illegible] people of this city that we have [illegible], but we hope that an opportunity will [illegible] to them to consider the matter

[illegible] ITEMS —The sub-marine diver was [illegible] at Clinton's Point yesterday examining [illegible] of the river there to ascertain the [illegible] of the piles driven for the East Portland [illegible] wharf

[illegible], with 580 tons of railroad iron [illegible] for this port is now two days out [illegible] Francisco

[illegible] of hands under Mr Ferguson, foreman [illegible] Clinton's Point, grading, is at this time [illegible] The "cut" is 50 feet deep 30 feet of [illegible] through cement and gravel

[illegible], engineer of the locomotive Portland [illegible] the time of the East Portland accident, [illegible] again yesterday Mr Hudson and [illegible] injured at the same time will be [illegible] a few days it is thought

[illegible] of constructing the East Portland [illegible] at Clinton's Point, is progressing under [illegible] superintendence of Mr John Carroll Eight [illegible] are employed constantly In driving [illegible] each one has been iron pointed to penetrate the cement bottom.

The work of building the large side wheel [illegible] ferry boat for the Oregon and California Railroad Company is progressing finely at [illegible] Portland under the superintendence of Mr [illegible] The keel, 120 feet in length has [illegible] and workmen are now engaged on the [illegible] The boat will have a depth of 10 feet [illegible] beam The engines which were built [illegible] York, will arrive in time to be put in soon [illegible] hull is launched [illegible] LABOR EXCHANGE —Referring to the petition presented to the Legislature asking for an [illegible] in aid of the Portland Labor Exchange and Board of Statistics the Catholic Sentinel says We are in favor of aiding any one [illegible] looking to the encouragement of immigration to this State, but think that such an important matter as that should not be left to private [illegible] but that the State should take the [illegible] into its own hands. And we are of the [illegible] that such is the only plan by which immigration can be most surely directed to Oregon [illegible] an expenditure of a comparatively small amount, thousands of hardy people, coming from Ireland, England Germany Denmark Sweden and Norway, and other European countries can [illegible] directed to our beautiful Oregon in order to [illegible] its rich and dormant resources people the [illegible] and enrich its inhabitants We hope the Legislature now in session will not fail to give [illegible] important matter the consideration it deserves.

THE LOWNSDALE TITLES.

ED [illegible]

I observe by an article in the morning OREGONIAN on reliable information that proceedings will be commenced to settle the question of title to all the lots claimed by the heirs of D H Lownsdale or their grantees (not in the Mrs Lownsdale tract Why this information? There are now [illegible] at least pending and the evidence nearly completed in all of them One is complete and with the exception of filing some documents ready for trial and only awaiting the arrival of Judge Sawyer

These cases involve every question of [illegible] what can [illegible] and the evidence [illegible] to every fact bearing upon the case I make this statement to warn those interested [illegible] these matters against [illegible] jeopardizing their rights by any inconsiderate action upon the subject Yours

W W CHAPMAN

THE [illegible] —Gold is but dross when compared to the advantages which present themselves to men of enterprise in this part of the Pacific coast yet to show the fluctuations of mining camp life we quote as follows [illegible] concerning the [illegible] diggings of Kootenai which is reliable.

[illegible] Creek —The mining prospects on this creek are not good There are about one hundred Chinamen and thirty white men at work most of them making but small wages and but very few exceeding the regular wages of $5 per day

[illegible] Creek —On this creek there are a few claims working with varied success One company bottomed a good prospect of $5, but so far they have failed to strike a regular pay streak and consequently only a few claims have paid for working

The [illegible] —On this creek there are about fifteen Chinamen making small wages

[illegible] Creek —On this creek George Weaver has established a hydraulic and is said to be developing some good ground The Horse Ranch on Palmer's Bar was discovered last year by Palmer and has only been partly prospected The want of water will prevent its being prospected fully this fall There is a great difference of opinion as to the extent and richness of the diggings

BRIEF MENTION —The [illegible] T Company's steamer Senate which has been undergoing repairs at Oregon City will be launched to day It is said by connoisseurs in marine architecture that she will be a clipper under this new modeling of her hull

The [illegible] will sail for Victoria this evening

A new hardware shop has been started in East Portland

The fire alarm yesterday morning was occasioned by a slight fire at the residence of Mr John Brelsford corner of Tenth and B streets

THE DALLES BRANCH MINT —Dr [illegible]erman special agent of the Treasury Department formerly Director of the U S Mint, arrived here by the last steamer and is gone to Boise City His mission is to inquire about and estimate the amount of precious metals yielded this year by the mines in Oregon and the adjoining Territories and to report on the propriety of completing the building at the Dalles either as a Branch Mint or an assay office or for other purpose No doubt his report on this subject will decide what is to be done with the building at the Dalles

REAL ESTATE —The following transfers were recorded yesterday Patrick Hill and wife to John M Emery lots [illegible] and 8 in block 1[illegible] in Caruthers Addition warranty deed consideration $1 000

J A Strowbridge and wife to heirs of D H Lownsdale lots 1 and 2 in block 2 consideration $1 000

Joseph E Sedlack and wife to C P Ferry and George Woodward a piece of land situated in section 19 township I north range [illegible] east warranty deed consideration $480

POWER OF ATTORNEY —In view of proposed absence to the Eastern States this winter ensuing and the uncertainty of life in old age, Col W W Chapman and wife of this city have given a power of attorney to Mr W S Caldwell City Auditor, authorizing that gentleman to make confirmatory deeds to all individuals who claim confirmatory titles from Col Chapman with relinquishment of dower In view of the conflictions which have heretofore been met with in the matter of certain titles this will be gratifying intelligence to many of our citizens

THE OREGON LEGISLATURE

Sixth Biennial Session.

HOUSE—Morning Session

SALEM [illegible] 23, 1870

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock A M by the Speaker [illegible] members being present except [illegible]

The Speaker—The Sergeant at Arms informs me that he has been unable to secure the services of a [illegible]

The Journal of yesterday was read corrected and approved

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

[illegible] from the [illegible] Committee reported [illegible] chapter [illegible] of the general laws so as to [illegible] the same [illegible] counties of Wasco and Umatilla [illegible]

Also a substitute for House Bill No [illegible]

Also an amendment to House Bill No [illegible] an Act to [illegible]

Mr Whalley moved to amend by substituting the words [illegible] instead [illegible]

The motion failed and the bill was ordered engrossed

Mr McC[illegible] from the Committee on Mining reported amendments to House Bill No [illegible] an Act relating to water rights and the right of way to construct canals flumes and ditches

Mr Olney moved that the bill and amendments be referred to Committee of the Whole

Mr Davenport suggested a reference to the Judiciary Committee

Mr Appers moved to amend Mr Olney's motion by referring to the Judiciary Committee

Mr Amis objected to the reference to the Judiciary Committee He had objected to a disposition to refer all important bills to that committee He thought the committee on Mining equally qualified to pass upon the bill and as that committee had already reported upon it he thought it should not have been referred

Mr Appers's motion failed and the bill was referred to Committee of the Whole

FEES OF OFFICERS

A message from the Senate announced the passage of S B No [illegible] an act to amend chapter 18 of the general laws concerning the fees of officers The bill was read a first time and referred [illegible]

NOTICES OF BILLS

Mr Whiteaker for Mr Savage gave notice of a bill to amend section [illegible] of chapter 53 of general laws and also of a bill to amend an act entitled an act to incorporate Dalles City

Mr Clarke gave notice of a bill for the payment of mileage to the Judges of the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon

MILEAGE OF MEMBERS

A message from the Senate announced the passage of a bill to pay the mileage of members of the Legislature It appropriates $16 000 or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the mileage of members

The bill was read a first time and under suspension of the rules it was read the second time

Mr Olney moved to engross the bill

Mr Whiteaker had no objections to appropriate so much as may be necessary but he thought $10 000 was [illegible] much and moved to amend by reducing the amount to $10 000

Mr Dorris thought there could be no harm in appropriating $16 000 as only so much as should be found necessary could be drawn from the Treasury

Mr Whiteaker did not like to see the records show so large an appropriation for mileage.

Mr Olney suggested $10 000 as an amendment to Mr Whiteaker's amendment, as he feared $5 000 would not be enough

Mr Dorris had heard that the $12 000 appropriated at the last session for mileage and per diem was not sufficient and that some of them had not yet received their pay

Mr Olney had been informed that it would probably take about $18 000 to pay the expenses of the present Legislature

Mr Whiteaker accepted Mr Olney's amendment

Mr Hare did not wish to see the bill amended so as to make [illegible] more than was necessary could be used He wished the members to draw their mileage so that they could pay their board bills [Laughter]

Mr Whiteaker's motion failed

Mr Olney moved to insert after the word mileage the words and per diem

Pending the consideration of the amendment the House adjourned at 11 15 P M

Afternoon Session

The House met at 2 o'clock P M the Speaker in the Chair

MILEAGE.

The question was stated on Mr Olney's amendment

Mr Olney—The Secretary of State informs me that the full expenses of the last Legislature were $15 963 36 A bill was passed appropriating $12,000 to pay mileage and per diem This left a deficiency of $3 963 36 which is yet to be provided for There is then one fourth part remaining unpaid The Secretary estimates that about that sum ($16 000) will be the mileage and per diem of the present session This bill appropriates $16 000, and it confines the payment to mileage My amendment proposes to provide also for the per diem but the latter is not to be paid until the close of the session It has been customary heretofore to pay the mileage in advance It has been suggested that this is unsafe for the State inasmuch as the whole might not become due to some members by reason of death To provide against such a contingency the amendment prohibits the drawing of the warrants until the close of the session

Mr Dorris thought self preservation the first law of nature and as there will not be a dollar left in the Treasury at the close of the session he was in favor of drawing the mileage without unnecessary delay

Mr Hare moved to refer to the Committee on Ways and Means

Mr Amis—I wish to state what I have learned since our action this morning. If we amend this bill and send it back to the Senate, it will be laid upon the table there and not acted upon soon I state this so that those who want their money may know how to vote

Mr Olney intended to vote without regard to the probable action of the Senate or any other outside influence

Mr Whiteaker—I hope the amendment will not be adopted Let the bill pass.

Mr Hare's motion failed

Mr Grant obtained leave of absence till Monday

Mr Olney's amendment was rejected by 11 yeas to 24 noes

The rules were then suspended and the bill read the third time and passed

GRANT COUNTY

A message from the Senate announced the passage of H B No 8, an Act to define the boundaries of Grant county The bill was read the first time

COURT TERMS

Mr Whiteaker offered a resolution requesting the Senate to return S B No 23 to postpone the terms of court in Coos county to the third Monday in October for further action

Mr Lockhart—I would inquire what is proposed to be done with the bill?

Mr Dorris—I arise to a point of order that such a question is premature

Mr Lockhart—We desire to know how to vote upon the resolution

The resolution was adopted.

MARKING SALMON

Mr Olney's bill relative to marking salmon was read the third time. Mr Olney stated that it was the object of the bill to introduce the principles of the Washington Territory bill so as to enable private parties to compete with each other Under the existing law requiring the inspection of salmon prepared for the market Oregon salmon has lost its prestige in the San Francisco market to a great extent on account of the great amount of bad salmon put up under the official brand The bill is demanded by fishermen generally It will tend to throw the business into better hands

The bill was passed unanimously

House Bill No 4, an act for the protection of salmon fisheries was read a third time and passed. Ayes 39 noes 5

COURT TERMS IN COOS COUNTY

A message from the Senate returned S B No 23 as requested by the House for further consideration

Mr Whiteaker moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill was lost yesterday.

The motion prevailed by 20 ayes to 19 noes

Mr Caldwell moved to reconsider the vote by which the last section of the bill had been stricken out leaving the bill to go into effect in ninety days as is the usual custom

Mr Lockhart opposed the motion He was in favor of the bill provided it could be allowed to take effect after ninety days so as not to interfere with the interests of litigants and the next court which under the existing law will be held on the first Monday in October but he did not wish to see this bill take effect immediately as it would thereby put the county and litigants to trouble He did not see that the members of the Supreme Court were crowded with much business. They had adjourned to attend the Linn County Fair and appeared to be taking things very leisurely He stated that the bill would work a great hardship upon the people of his county and appealed to the magnanimity of the House not to pass the bill

Mr Dorris was satisfied that the House would not be found wanting in magnanimity toward Coos county but he deemed it highly important that the bill should pass to take effect immediately in order to secure the presence of Judge Thayer in the Supreme Court throughout the term The Court had gone to the Fair simply to take a little recreation after a long term of hard work If Judge Thayer should not attend there would be but two Judges present when there should be a quorum of three The bill would not cost more than seventy five dollars

Mr Whalley was opposed to [illegible] He thought the earnest opposition manifested by the Representative from Coos county (Mr Lockhart) ought to be sufficient to cause the rejection of the bill Members ought to be governed largely by the views of the immediate representative of the counties

Mr Olney regarded the question as a choice between two evils The evil which might result from the absence of Judge Thayer from the Supreme Court are imaginary The extra cost to Coos county is a real and certain evil He would therefore vote against the motion because the latter was the greater of the evils He asked an explanation from Mr Dorris as to how two members of the Supreme Court would be left On reaching the Fifth District there are five members of the Supreme Court Should Judge Thayer leave to hold his [illegible] court in Coos county four would remain In the Fifth District most if not all of the appeals cases were passed upon by the ex Judges of that District and not by the present incumbent and therefore there will be four Judges without Judge Thayer [illegible] Judge McA[illegible] be disqualified from passing upon any cases [illegible] be three Judges on the Bench [illegible] of the Court

The motion to reconsider prevailed [illegible] ayes 1[illegible] noes

Mr Whiteaker called for the question on the adoption of the amendment

[illegible] to adjourn until Monday at [illegible] o'clock P M

Mr Whiteaker—[illegible] that [illegible] prevail

Mr Lockhart [illegible] the amendment [illegible] a jury [illegible] county the Sheriff [illegible] travel [illegible] miles That he passage of the bill will make it necessary to summon a new jury for the third Monday in October as the jury now summoned for the 1st Monday will have to be dismissed

Mr Dorris could not see how Mr Lockhart should know so exactly how far the Sheriff would have to travel He might summon a jury in a little while

Mr Lockhart—Yes so he may be struck by lightning (Laughter

Mr Dorris—Yes lightning may strike soon I think the cost to the county would not exceed $100 that is allowing the usual mileage on the full eight hundred miles.

Mr Hare had not heard a single good argument in favor of the bill The Supreme Court had been held for many years under the old law and he could not understand why there should be so much haste [illegible]

now It may be a movement [illegible] attorney to get [illegible] Patrick [illegible] will [illegible] weight [illegible]

[illegible]

The amendment was [illegible]

A Chapter of Facts
Space is valuable in a newspaper and it is therefore proposed in this advertisement to condense a variety of facts important to the public into a small compass These facts refer to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—what that celebrated medicine is and what it will do In the first place the article is a stimulant tonic and alterative consisting of a combination of absolutely pure spirituous agent with the most valuable medicinal vegetable substances that Botanic research has placed at the disposal of the chemist and the physician These ingredients are compounded with great care, and in such proportions as to produce a preparation which invigorates without exciting the general system and tones regulates and controls the stomach the bowels the liver and the minor secretive organs
What this great restorative will do must be gathered from what it has done The cases of dyspepsia, or any other form of indigestion in which it has been persistently administered without effecting a radical cure is yet to be heard from and the same may be said of bilious disorders intermittent fever nervous affections general debility constipation sick headache, mental despondency and the peculiar complaints and disabilities to which the feeble are subject It purifies all the fluids of the body including the blood and the gentle stimulus which it imparts to the nervous system is not succeeded by the slightest reaction This is a chapter of facts which readers for their own sakes should mark and remember

An Instructive Comparison

The more unscrupulous [illegible] of the [illegible] journals of the country which characterize and rules the New York World and the Chicago Times have made a serious attempt to show that the expense of the civil administration of the government under President Grant is considerably greater than the expense of the administration under Buchanan. To prove this they have compared the cost of Grant's first year with the cost of Buchanan's last year, a comparison which is sufficiently fair for all practical purposes.

It is legitimate for Republicans to plead that more ought to be allowed for the expenses of Grant's administration than for those of Buchanan's in consequence of the enormously increased facilities in every department of the Government. The postal service has been greatly extended, both in breadth and effectiveness. The Bureau of Indian Affairs has been reconstructed and Jacob Thompson gambled with the bonds. The Bureau of Agriculture has been created. The Pension Bureau has been quadrupled in its service. The Treasury Department too covers four times as much space, and employs four times as many clerks as during the good old days of Howell Cobb. Ought not the regular cost of running the Government to be much greater than during those piping times of peace?

But they are not greater, considering the increase of population; in fact incredible as it may appear they are less now than then! With all the enlargement of public service the national civil expenses during the past year have been smaller than during the last year of President Buchanan's term.

The New York World, probably with the aid of its former mathematician Delmar the Doleful, makes the following declaration:

"The Administration of Grant has expended, after giving credit for extra interest on the debt, pensions, and a fifth increase for the increase of population, $333 903 867 against $146 999,314 or in other words for every dollar expended, exclusive of interest and pensions, by the Government in 1860-61, the rulers in 1869-70 expended as nearly as possible, two dollars and twenty-seven cents."

Now see how plain a tale shall put you down! The total expenditures of the government for the year ending June 30, 1870 were $292 124,052 18.

From this expenditure of 1870 there should be deducted the following items incurred in consequence of the Democratic rebellion:

Interest on the public debt	$127,702 338 05
Expenses of national loan	2 792 466 [illegible]
Bounty to soldiers	4,993 700 00
Horses and other property lost in the military service	200 984 50
Reimbursing States for expenses incurred in raising troops	1 291 303 32
Bureau of Refugees and Freedmen	1,326 193 25
Arrears of pay to volunteers	1 593 402 94
Expenses under Reconstruction acts	333 760 84
National cemetries	2[illegible] 384 [illegible]
Captured and abandoned property	40 823 82
Expenses collecting internal revenue taxes	8 164 733 40
Pensions	28 340,202 17
Navy, increased expenses	6,089,000 00
Army, increased expenses	26 058 827 00	$211 241 116 73
Total expenditures for 1870, less items properly chargeable to the rebellion		$80,882 935 40
Reduced to a gold basis for comparison with 1860, a Democratic administration, the average price of gold being for the year $3 2-10 per cent making the expenditures less war items, gold basis		$65 631 733 45

Estimating the population of the United States at 40,000,000 expense for the year of President Grant's Administration, ending June 30, 1870, is per capita, $1 64; For the year 1860, the expenditures of the Government were $63 025 789 34 gold, the population being but 31,000 000 per capita $2 70—showing a proportionate expenditure of 18 per cent. less in 1870 than in 1860, upon the same basis, notwithstanding the increased area of the country, the interest on Pacific Railroad bonds, and the organization of new territories.

The exhibit in favor of Grant's administration will be clearly seen when stated thus:

Expenses of administration for thirty one millions people	$63,025,789 34
Expenses of administration for forty millions people	65 631 733 45
Increased economy for 1870	18 per cent.

This indicates a saving per capita by Grant over Buchanan of nearly one-fifth of the whole expense. In other words, if the expenses of Grant's first year had been proportionately as great as those of Buchanan's last year, they would have been seventy millions instead of sixty-five millions.

Such an increase would have been justified by the whole financial history of our Government. Buchanan's Administration was much more expensive than Pierce's. Pierce's was costlier than Polk's was twice as expensive as Jackson's, and Jackson's twice as expensive as Jefferson's. The rapid growth of the nation necessitates new outlays—like the rapid growth of a family. The service of the nation in almost all departments has been enormously extended since 1860. New States have been introduced into the growing Union. All things have conspired to augment the cost of running the Government per capita, and yet it has been largely diminished. This Administration compares in its financial features equally well with any other. For example:

The expenditures for the year ending March 31, 1869, seven months of which was under Johnson (currency) including war items	$318,638,244 39
The expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1870, all under Grant, were (currency) including war items	292,124 062 18
Saving under Grant	$26 532,193 63

Since the beginning of Grant's administration, the public debt of the nation has diminished one hundred and fifty millions of dollars.

Since the beginning of Grant's administration, the value of United States bonds has increased ten per cent in the money markets of Europe.

Since the beginning of Grant's administration taxation by internal revenue has been largely diminished, many classes of goods and traffic being relieved altogether, while the law has been so thoroughly enforced that the aggregate receipts have been increased more than sixty millions of dollars—more than half of the increase being from whisky and tobacco.

In fact, during the last two years, the Republicans have largely diminished the average burdens of taxation, have put the public debt into the course of rapid payment, have introduced economy into public affairs, have finished the work of reconstruction, and under the leadership of the chieftain who defended the life of the nation in the field have placed the republic on the secure foundations of peace prosperity and dignity.

Views on the War

[From the Chicago Republican]

Napoleon announced that his war was waged against Bismarck and his policy. King William proclaimed that his war was against Napoleon. The end is that he has Napoleon and to that extent no cause for further war. It is evident that the crisis of this contest is now reached and the world will soon see what motive if any underlies a further conflict. It is one thing to war upon and capture the French Emperor; it will be quite another to war on a French Republic and for mere purposes of conquest. The world at large is looking for moderation from Prussia in its present hour of victory and if mankind are mistaken, no one can foresee the end, for it will inevitably involve all Europe. In all the neutral nations the smoldering fires of revolution begin to lighten, and it will take little to fan them into a blaze. There is not a people in Europe that cordially loves its Government, or that would not change it if opportunity offers. In the order of Providence the madness and folly of Napoleon may lead the Old World into the baptism of a new birth, and dynasties perish as slavery has perished on this continent. Woe to kings everywhere if the combined liberal element rises in its might to assert its rights and pay the debt which ages of wrong have heaped upon the common people. A war of ideas will be more terrible than a war of monarchs. There and this republican idea that governments [illegible] the [illegible] and must be administered for the benefit of the people and not their rulers [illegible] taking hold on the minds of millions who have, so far, never been heard from as a part of any of the governments. It may be that from out of this tempest there is to spring the hurricane of vengeance which will crush princes and thrones [illegible] and from the wreck the principles of Peace and Liberty will [illegible]. The [illegible] look [illegible] and light will soon break on the world, will witness such convulsions as modern times have not seen. God rules in the affairs of men and if the hour of deliverance for oppressed manhood has at length come the way and manner will in due time be indicated. We have sympathized with Prussia to the extent that her cause was plainly right, and now that her avowed object is achieved we propose to await her future. A contest to crush out liberty will, if undertaken, change the current of men's feelings and give to American sympathy a new direction. We wait hopefully, having faith in the moderation of the victors; but if deceived there is nothing in the history of this country to justify siding with a war for the overthrow of freedom in any land.

From the Chicago Tribune

All Europe will now engage in the work of bringing about an amicable adjustment between France and Germany. The friendly intervention of every first class power will be proffered to save the further effusion of blood, Paris from bombardment and the French people from deeper humiliation and loss. Any dismemberment of France now that the Bonaparte tribe of despots is gone, imperialism dead, and a government of the people established, will be regarded with intense dread and disfavor throughout the civilized world and in Germany itself a powerful reaction will set in. The fires of '48 are not extinguished. The German masses are still Republican at heart, and a war waged against the Republicans of France can never be a popular war with the Republican Germans. Just now the French people are frantic and not fit to take a cool view of the desperation of their military situation. But the Prussian leaders are cool, long-headed men, or universally believed to be such.

If Count Bismarck is the wise man we take him to be he will advise the King of Prussia to halt in his march toward Paris, turn his victorious legions homeward, and stop not until he reaches Berlin—at least not to press the siege of Paris. The King declared that he waged not war against the French people but against the Emperor and his armies. He has taken the former prisoner and put the latter hors du combat. There is nothing left, then, for him to fight. Peace can be made upon far better terms to Prussia if she voluntarily turns her back upon the French Republic. She can get better guarantees against a renewal of the war in that way than by seizing and holding Alsace and Lorraine or Metz and Strasbourg. The French Republic has been dangerous in times past to foreign invaders, and nothing would be so likely to make it dangerous now as the continued presence of a foreign army on her soil.

Again, Prussia has thus far had the moral support of the world because she has deserved it. But, if advantage is to be taken of the helpless situation of the French Republic which has itself committed no offence against Prussia, to humiliate or oppress it, the tables will be turned, and the sympathies of enlightened nations will henceforth be with the French. We shall be greatly disappointed if the Prussian statesmen do not appreciate the delicacy of the situation and still further challenge the admiration of the world by returning to their own side of the Rhine without even waiting to be negotiated away.

NOTICE.

HOLDERS OF TICKETS to the GIFT CONCERT in aid of the Mercantile Library Association are hereby notified, that the Concert is postponed until

This is positively the only postponement which will be made. The Concert will take place on the day above named, commencing at nine o'clock A. M. and to continue until all the gifts have been awarded.

The funds already in bank are considerably more than sufficient to insure the successful completion of the contract with the public.

The sale of tickets will positively close on Friday the 28th day of October 1870.

All tickets remaining unsold at that time will be withdrawn from sale and cancelled. They will be advertised by their numbers on the 29th day of October 1870 in one or more of the daily papers of this city. Any diminution thus made in the number of tickets to be drawn will not affect the number or amount of gifts. They will be as heretofore advertised, to wit: 628 gifts amounting in all to $500 000 gold.

Ticket holders residing out of San Francisco will receive duly accredited lists of the awards, [illegible] which will also be published in the leading San Francisco daily papers on the 1st November 1870.

SECURE A HOME!!

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS to their Stock.

Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made before the books were opened and a large number of Shares have been taken.

The following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin will convey a good idea of the plan and workings of the Association, the location of the land, etc.

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since, is now ready to dispose of shares. As it is with one exception (the Portland Homestead Association) the pioneer organization of that kind in this city it may be well enough to state what are its purposes and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are dependent for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their lands consequent upon the co-operation of many individuals—shareholders—and the advance on values of all surrounding lands by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of but still near, the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, the nearest boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Wallamet river half a mile in length, and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them) the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 24 blocks 200 feet square (with streets running at right angles) and 80 fractional lots along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $60 per share. It will be seen that a share thus represents nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 80 fractional lots. The 80 fractional shares are to be sold off at the proper time for the benefit of the Association shareholders coming in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it, the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sales after deducting the original price of shares or lots, to be divided equally among the whole number of shares. Thus, if a person wants a particular lot or block and is willing to pay $100 or $500 premium (more or less as the case may be) he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual property, the premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders. It will be seen therefore that everything is co operative, and all interests mutual. No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other equal shareholder. There is no chance for loss, unless the property, by some chance, should depreciate far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for himself, but considering the steady and unprecedented advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood, and at East Portland and vicinity for the last year or two, it seems hardly possible for values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares representing three blocks, or twenty four lots, and votes determining the operations of the Association are restricted in the same manner. The buyers of shares may pay down $60 per share, which will exempt them from all assessments, or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $5 per share payable with the first installment, being liable in this latter case to another (and only one other) assessment of $3 per share. Upon the payment of the shares in full, with the assessments as above, the holder is entitled to his certificate and his proportion of all the profits accrued from all sources. No officer of the Association receives any pay for services except the Secretary, who gets $25 per month, so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 90 feet above the water. There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract affording the means of irrigation and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste lot or fractional lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder if he choose may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest, undivided with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making homesteads on the outskirts of this city and East Portland is being thoroughly discussed here among all classes and one homestead, the Riverside, just south of East Portland—has already been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is shaped like the letter H, one side of which, a half mile in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead, which is elevated but a trifle above the other prong of the H, but is still forty or fifty feet above the river, can be had an extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the shipping and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile and is partly covered with light fir timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks with an avenue between them connects the west prong of the H (which has already been described) with that of the east. This last tract of land is in a beautiful little valley which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through [illegible] runs a [illegible] brook, the water of which is clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the Association [illegible] have water conveyed through pipes to every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.
